

Figure 3: The Las Pataguas Vein is located one kilometre west of the core mine workings and can be exploited from the Hornitos Tunnel which is closer and at a lower elevation than the current production tunnel.

