

Figure 1: Plan view of the area of historic mining at the Cerro Las Minitas Project showing the distribution of current, historic and planned drill holes. Gravel covered geophysical targets, outlined in red, highlight the exploration potential of the project.