

Figure 1: Surface geology at the El Retén target, showing the traces of the first two drill holes as well as the surface geochemical anomalies for gold and copper.