

Figure 4. The Santa Margarida do Sado license with VMS target belts, and potential target areas delineated from previous exploration work. There are several historic drill holes available for review, and almost no exploration on the license since the late 1990's.