

The Toronto City Mission presents

ONE CITY one song

An exciting evening featuring a compilation of artists showcasing Toronto's diverse population and culture.

ASM Dance

ASM Dance (As the Spirit Moves) was founded in September 2007 by Jasmyn Fyffe. This company performs modern-contemporary dance. They are attentive to the depth and diversity of human experience and sensitive to social issues, by performing an art which is able to impact the human spirit through its meaning and transforming power.

U of T Gospel Choir

Founded in February 1995, the University of Toronto Gospel Choir was formed in celebration of Black History month. The Choir was initially created to unite students with a shared interest in praising the Lord through song. Today, the choir has become a refuge for those looking for a non-threatening and empowering environment and includes members from all races and Christian denominations.

Also featuring:

Tess McAfee

Natasha Gascho

TCM Youth Choir

Peter Moncrieffe

Pastor Peter Moncrieffe is the Worship Pastor at Rhema Christian Ministries – Toronto. He brings 14 years of ministerial leadership experience to the table, which includes itinerant preaching as an Evangelist, pastoral experience as a Youth Pastor and musical experience as a Musical Director. He works diligently to ensure that God's praises are made glorious and that the Rhema Christian Ministries experience the best of the arts that God has to offer.

Paulis Sanchez

Paulis Sánchez introduces a powerfully effective blend of black gospel music and Spanish vocal performance that will compel you to embrace a novel stylistic genre within Latin Christian music. Having relocated to the metropolis of Toronto, Canada during her teenage years she was heavily influenced by the rhythmic sounds of black gospel music. Paulis envisions herself changing and affecting the lives of people all over the world, adding to the rich legacy of Latin Christian music.
