

Figure 1: Soil Geochemical Results – Cobrecon Target (T4). These are preliminary results from an on-going program of ridge soil sampling. The small black dots are from lines that are pending results. In 2011 the work will continue to completely cover the area of magnetic high anomalies, outlined in magenta, as well as a magnetic low coincident with anomalous soil geochemistry, outlined in green.