

A baby is at a greater risk of suffocation in this position against the caregiver's or parent's body.

Make sure you can always see the baby's face and that it is away from your body.

Do not zip the baby up in a jacket