

Figure 3: Plan of the 1,272-metre level with drill sections, showing schematically the location of the mineralized zones and infrastructure in the Cascades side of the mine. The Big Zinc is interpreted to plunge steeply to the southwest.

