

Figure 1: Three-dimensional view of the Caribou Deposit, in New Brunswick’s Bathurst Mining Camp, showing location of the extensive existing surface and underground infrastructure, various mineralized lenses and significant drill-hole intercepts located outside of the current resource estimate.